

MINECES' UNDERSSELL- ING STORE TO BE OPENED HERE SOON

This City Is Chosen as the Fifth Link in Big Chain of Stores Whose Object Is To Sell It
For Less Money.

The new Mineces Under Selling Store will open soon at 49 West Second street, with two freshly remodeled floors devoted to the selling of ladies' and misses' dresses, suits, wraps, coats, millinery, furnishings and shoes. Also men's and boys' suits, pants, hats, caps, furnishings and shoes; complete lines of children's wear, dry goods and notions are likewise represented.

The Mineces Under Selling Stores are known up and down the Ohio River as aggressive, progressive stores whose tremendous outlets enable them to "underbuy" and consequently "under sell". There are no others just like them though they have been imitated and copied time after time. Other Mineces stores are located in Ironton, Chillicothe and Marietta, Ohio, and in Ashland, Ky., with a wholesale distributing house in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Wherever Mineces Under Selling Stores have been established, competitors have lost caste, competition has worked harder and retail business tones up to a very high pitch of efficiency. It is well to remember that all under selling stores are not Mineces stores. This firm's policy is aptly expressed in its slogan: "More for your money or your money back," and only merchandise of high character is sold and which is fully guaranteed for complete satisfaction or your purchase money will be cheerfully refunded. The opening announcements will appear in the Ledger this week.

We cordially invite you to attend our Spring Opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 23, 24 and 25. 21-21 CLIFT-CARR SHOP.

ASKS $50,000 DAMAGES IN SUIT AGAINST C. & O.

Tragedy at Covington Is Recalled By Filing of Large Damage Suit in the Kenton Circuit Court Monday.

The filing of a $50,000 damage suit Monday in the Kenton Circuit Court, Covington, recalled a tragedy of more than a year ago when four persons, two men and two women, were killed as the automobile in which they were riding crashed against the tender of a locomotive at the Pike street crossing of the C. & O. Railroad on April 13, 1921.

The action instituted by Charles M. Newport, administrator of the estate of his son, Charles M. Jr., 15 years old, driver of the ill-fated automobile, who according to the petition, died within forty-five minutes after the accident.

The defendants in the suit are the Covington and Cincinnati Elevated Railway and Transfer Bridge Company and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company. The petition alleges negligence on the part of the defendant companies in allowing an engine and tender to block the crossing at Pike and Russell streets.

REFUSED TO MARRY MOTHER'S CHOICE, GIRL DRIVEN AWAY

Telling a Most Deplorable Story of Mistreatment by Her Mother, Girl
Appeals to Police to Get Clothing.

Florence Daugherty, seventeen-year-old girl, employed in a local factory, told local police a deplorable story of mistreatment by her own mother Tuesday in an appeal to the police to secure her clothing which was being held by a former landlady to secure the payment of a board bill. The girl said that she was deserted several months ago by her mother when they lived in the city of Buffalo, N. Y., and that about last November she received a letter from her mother, who was living in Maysville, informing her that the mother was ill and appealing to her to come to Maysville and nurse her mother. She came here in November and cared for her mother who then lived in Carmel street. Both mother and daughter, as soon as the mother had recovered, secured employment in a local tobacco stemmy.

The young lady says that a few months ago the mother insisted that the girl marry a certain young man who lives here and that she refused because she did not love the young man. The mother became furious at her continued refusal to marry the man selected, according to the girl, and drove her from the home. The girl boarded with a woman in the East End but soon became indebted to the landlady and was compelled to leave her boarding house and seek another. All the clothing she possessed, besides work clothes, were held by the landlady, she says to secure the board bill. She borrowed clothes from a girl friend but that girl friend Monday decided to move from Maysville and wanted her clothing. This caused Miss Daugherty to seek the aid of the police. Payment of the debt was guaranteed the landlady and the clothing was returned to the girl.

The girl says her mother left Maysville several weeks ago and she does not now know where the mother is located.

ALLEGED INSANE MAN SETS JAIL BED AFIRE.

Thomas Grigsby, of the East End, was taken in charge by the local police Monday evening on a writ issued in County Court for an Inquest into his sanity, and lodged in the county jail. Grigsby had considerable trouble with prisoners in the jail and in a fight blackened one of the prisoner's eyes. On Tuesday morning Grigsby was placed in a cell and jail attendants shortly afterward discovered smoke coming from the cell. Investigating, they found that Grigsby had set the mattress in the cell afire. It was extinguished before the fire had done much damage.

TIME EXTENDED FOR COUNTY SUPERVISORS BY STATE BOARD

Special Order Made By State Tax Commission Giving Local Supervisors Six additional Days.

Learning that they would not be enabled to complete their big task of equalizing the tax assessment of Mason county and bringing the assessment up to the figures demanded by the State Tax Commission, the local board of County Tax Supervisors so advised the State Commission.

The State Commission has advised County Judge Purnell of the condition and has ordered him to extend the time, accordingly Judge Purnell Tuesday made an order extending the time allowed the Mason County Board to six days additional.

The county board spent practically all of last week in equalizing the assessment in the city of Maysville and they would have been unable to complete the county equalization without this additional time grant.

It is expected that the board will have considerable work on their hands when they get ready to hear complaints on increases. Notice will be sent out as soon as the entire county assessment is equalized.

YOUNGSTERS ARE ANXIOUS TO GET TRY-OUT HERE

Maysville Team In Bluegrass League
Will Soon Be Shaped—Several of Last Season Players Want Tryout With the Locals.

President Claude Watkins, of the Maysville baseball club of the Bluegrass League, announced Tuesday that within a few weeks the local club would be taking some sort of form and the local fans would begin to know something of the make-up of the club that will start the season in the new league.

Boskins, Kresser and Slayback, last season's stars in the local independent team, have written the local management asking a chance to make the team and they will be given that chance. Others who have sought a try-out are L. M. McKibben, of Germantown, one of the best amateur outfielders in this section; John Riffe, a Bentonsville, Ohio, Twirler, who was here in person Monday and who will be given a chance; Roebuck and Yates, of Manchester, phenomenal players and Stephen Golden, of Harboursville, a last season's find. Jack Neff, catcher and H. L. Wood, pitcher, of Rickford, N. Y., have written for chances.

President Watkins expects to select his manager before any try-outs are given and he now has on the string a number of high class men for this responsible position. He expects to be able to select the manager within a short time and get him on the job. Many practice games are promised as soon as possible.

TWO WIVES WHIP GIRL; LEAVE HER IN SUBURBS

Offer to Drive Waitress Home But Instead Go to Lonely Spot
Near Ardmore.

Ardmore, Okla., March 21. — The fact that two women took Miss Brooksie Griffin, a waitress, to a lonely spot in the suburbs several nights ago, and there whipped her with switches, became known Monday with the announcement by James H. Mathers, County Attorney, that there would be no prosecution.

Miss Griffin refused to see a reporter. It was intimated at the court house that investigation showed that two married women had offered to take the girl home late in the evening but drove, instead, several miles into the country where they stopped and asked the girl to alight.

It was said that the women then whipped her, after which they left her to wait home. The girl was absent from her place of employment several days.

The officials assigned no reason for the whipping.

AMERICAN RIGHTS VINDICATED.

Important by reason of the great material and political interests affected, this matter of the famous island of Yap has been one of the most celebrated of the issues arising from the settlements of the war, because it involved vital principles of natural and international right. Furthermore, in its successful outcome the controversy has provided one of the most creditable chapters in the annals of American diplomacy. In consummating the agreement with Japan, Secretary Hughes accomplished against odds a noteworthy achievement of statesmanship.

No impartial scrutiny of the record could fail to show that the American claims in respect to Yap were legally and morally invulnerable. This nation sought no exclusive right, but only the equal rights to which it was entitled as one of the five Powers to which Germany surrendered the island. American rights in the territory antedated, and were inalienable by, any action on the part of the supreme council, the league of nations or any body whatsoever, without the consent of the United States.

It was one thing, however, to state an unanswerable case, and another thing to make it prevail, without undertaking to use force against the fact of Japan's technically sound title and the still more formidable fact of her possession of the disputed island. This was the task that Secretary Hughes had inherited from the previous administration; and he was called upon to carry it through while directing, the complicated and delicate procedure of the conference on the limitation of armament. By correspondence and personal interviews with the Japanese ambassador he pressed the negotiations from the time he assumed office, but it was not until December 12 that he was able to announce their successful conclusion.

Considering that Japan had been in possession for two years and a half, and that her position was fortified by formal sanction of the supreme council and the league of nations, the complete vindication of the American case was a remarkable achievement. It was agreed that this country shall have "free access" to Yap on a footing of "entire equality with Japan or any other nation, in all that relates to the landing of the existing Yap-Guam cable or any cable which may hereafter be laid by the United States or its nationals." This country and American citizens shall have similar rights with respect to radio installations. Rights of residence, property ownership and conduct of enterprise shall be enjoyed in absolute equality, without permit or license, censorship of messages or discriminatory police regulations. Every American contention, in fact, is fully established and safeguarded.

The treaty—which was signed on February 11—goes still further by it the United States consents to the administration of the north Pacific islands by Japan, but only on precise conditions. First, this country is to have the benefit of the engagements of Japan set forth in the league mandate, the provisions being quoted. Moreover, any modifications in the mandate are to be subject to the consent of the United States, and Japan agrees to furnish this government with duplicates of the annual reports of her administration which she is required to furnish to the league of nations. In other words, the United States has all the rights, privileges and safeguards enjoyed by members of the league, while bearing no responsibility involved in the mandate or in league membership.

To normal minds, indeed, it would seem that in this difficult controversy Secretary Hughes had gained, while maintaining friendship with Japan, a diplomatic triumph of extraordinary scope and value.—Philadelphia North American.

BONUS LEGISLATION.

The soldiers' bonus bill presents a peculiarly knotty problem. If the demand really comes from the rank and file of the American Legion and is not merely raised by the leaders, who wish to remain in office and are under obligation to show a concrete reason for the existence of the organization; the measure will, sooner or later, be passed. The method of pressing for the passage of the bill may not appeal to all men; it may, in their eyes, bear a striking resemblance to block legislation; but our national legislators are not likely to oppose the measure if they become convinced that it represents the unified demand of several millions of voters. Our representatives at Washington may feel that it established a dangerous precedent, that it will wreck all plans for a lightening of the burden of the people and that to most of the men it will be a mere sop and not a permanent relief; but, if they act upon their conviction and vote against the measure, they will do so with the full realization that they are making it possible for any demagogue to defeat them at the next election on this dubious issue.

It is essentially unfair to say that opposition to this measure is indicative of an unfriendly sentiment toward the ex-service men. In the long run—and not so long, at that—what is good for the nation is good for the soldiers. They will have to take the god and the bad effects of such legislation together with the rest of their fellow citizens.—Fort Wayne News.

Senator Watson of Georgia, has made another dash into the limelight by announcing the alleged discovery of a law prohibiting a Secretary of the Treasury from engaging in business. He asserts that Mr. Mellon has no legal right to his office, and should resign at once. Mr. Watson's charges are as ridiculous as those he recently made regarding the wanton execution of soldiers in France. Even if there were such a law it would be manifestly unworkable, and has probably been violated by every Secretary of the Treasury who has ever held office. Every man of sufficient prominence to be named to a Cabinet position is technically in business, either actively or through the ownership of stocks, bonds, or other income producing property. Mr. Mellon is no exception.

The National socialist administration was recalled at the general election in November, 1920. The socialist administration of North Dakota was recalled at a special election in 1921. Mr. McAdoo should be able to read the signs clearly enough to know that the outlook is not good for him and his party in the elections of 1922.

STOCK SHIPPING BODIES. LOWER MARKETING COST.

Lexington, Ky. — Co-operative marketing as a better and cheaper means of getting livestock to the market could be practiced more extensively in practically all parts of Kentucky, marketing specialists at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station said here recently. Up to the present time, the development in this method of marketing livestock has been slow in the state in spite of the fact that its efficiency has been demonstrated repeatedly, it is said.

During 1920, livestock shipping associations in Iowa saved farmers approximately $3,000,000 on 50,000 carloads of stock. D. G. Card, one of the specialists pointed out in showing the advantages of this method of marketing. The average saving was about $5 cents a hundred pounds on the stock marketed through the associations. The same year, 885 associations in Missouri shipped 2,621 cars at an average saving of $86.30 a carload. During 1921, one Kentucky association saved about $6,000 on 83 carloads shipped while another reduced the local buyer's shipping margin from $1.25 to 75 cents a hundred pounds, Mr. Card said.

Although financial savings are the most important benefits of such associations, other results are of almost equal importance, it is said. Chief among these is the improvement in the class of livestock raised in the community. When farmers ship their own stock to market where it is graded and sold accordingly, they soon learn the value of good stock and strive to improve their own flocks and herds in order to receive better prices, the market men claim. Successful local associations also form an excellent foundation on which to build large cooperative enterprises, it is claimed.

Livestock shipping associations constitute one of the simplest forms of co-operative marketing, the specialists say. Stock is assembled at a shipping point, where one man is held responsible for the receiving, weighing and loading. Each farmer's stock is marked so that all expenses may be pro-rated among the various shippers in proportion to the amount of stock

PREST-O-LITE'S Double Message to Car Owners

Here is a two-fisted battery offer to the owners and drivers of automobiles: Prest-O-Lite's 1922 prices, The Greatest Battery Values: Prest-O-Plates, the greatest advance in battery making. Either one singles out Prest-O-Lite from other batteries. Combined they make it a battery value without a rival.

Money-Saving Figures

Prest-O-Lite Batteries represent the greatest value in years. Consider that you can buy a regular Prest-O-Lite Battery for popular makes of light cars for $19.90 (trade-in price). Here are other outstanding values: $24.50 (trade-in price) for a 6-volt type serving BUICK MAXWELL CHANDLER OAKLAND HUDSON ESSEX 12-volt type at $32.30 (trade-in price) that serves MAXWELL — DODGE — FRANKLIN There are similar reductions on every Prest-O-Lite Battery, and Prest-O-Lite builds a correct type of battery for every make of motor car and truck.

Yes, With PREST-O-PLATES

These are not special models. They are top-quality Prest-O-Lites, with the famous Prest-O-Plates. Prest-O-Plates are as different from ordinary battery plates as gold is from gilt. They combine unusual hardness with a peculiar porosity. None of the old plate compromise between hardness and porosity. Prest-O-Plates have both.

This explains their ready dependable reserve power in biting zero weather, and their non-buckling, heat-resisting strength in summer.

Experts say that they are the world's best battery plate, and this is the same as saying that Prest-O-Lite is the world's best battery.

For the life of a battery is in the plates. You never need a new battery until the plates in your old go bad. As long as you have live plates, you have a battery.

Doubly Guaranteed

And every part of a Prest-O-Lite Battery is worthy, in material and workmanship, of Prest-O-Plates. That is why 87 leading manufacturers specify Prest-O-Lite as original equipment, and "the list is growing." Every Prest-O-Lite is backed by the regular Prest-O-Lite guaranty, a definite obligation, plus a spirit that says the car owner must be pleased.

Use PREST-O-LITE Service

It is our business, as part of Prest-O-Lite Service, the oldest organized service to motorists, to carry out this spirit; and to see that you get every bit of life out of a Prest-O-Lite Battery. But, no matter what battery you have, use our Service Station. You will find our experts ready to help you prolong the life of your battery. No one here will tell you that you need a new battery until you do. Come around today.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — A favorite meeting place for the Broadway crowds has disappeared. High up on a little building at Broadway and 44th street and 7th Avenue, a large electric clock has registered the passing hours on Broadway for years. There was little to attract attention to the building itself and travel was never congested at this point even though the clock was in direct vision from the Times building. Hence it was a favorite place for the boys to meet, but now the clock is gone. A building is to be erected on this spot and with the passage of time the place has lost its hold as a meeting point. No longer can Broadway promise to meet "you under the clock." There is already a movement on foot by the Heart of New York Business Men's Association to place a clock on the top of the proposed traffic tower at 44th street to replace the old time piece, but again that will not be a very convenient meeting place.

For those of us who have never succeeded in getting in "Who's Who," we have yet another reason for being sorry. A gentleman from out country recently applying for a passport was told he must have a birth certificate before it could be issued. To have sent home for it presented a long delay. His identity was complete and yet no means of verification existed. Then he remembered his entrance into fame by being listed in the 1921 "Who's Who." He produced the volume and the clerk read all about him and "his cousins and his aunts," and straightway forwarded the document to Washington with the assurance that the passport would be back on schedule time. It is said he had given a good account of himself in his own biography.

The shop windows are crowded with sport togs. You would think Midway did nothing but play golf, tennis, and otherwise sport itself. One of the leading shop keepers don't it. He claims that it is the intrigue of the smart sport clothes and the various accessories that go with them. The purchaser probably has no use for knickers, spending only an occasional week end in the country and even then not going in for long hikes, golf or riding. Yet, the knickers go with the suit; there are alluring woolen stockings, heavy brogue shoes and even tweed purses offered which make her go in for an entire costume even though she doesn't know when she is going to wear it. Now and then one of the brave souls dashes into a tea room in the afternoon, flushed and carefree, as is she has just torn herself away from the links when in reality she has only emerged from an uptown apartment. "The stuff is picturesque—they look like magazine covers and they like it," says the canny merchant.

—NY—
"Have you a little pollywog in your home?" So reads a sign in a bird and fish store in the lower down town section. The pollywogs swim contentedly around in a glass fish aquarium and if you buy an assortment you can watch the biological phenomena, of their development into frogs. This seems a frightful inroad on the privacy of a frog because after all, no one expects gold fish to have any privacy but it must be embarrassing to the poor pollywog to turn frog right before the very eyes of the world even though the observers are of the school, student and such, studying zoology.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, comes to the rescue for those girls with knickers. He is organizing business men and housewives flappers and cake eaters, stenographers and clerks—all elements of New York's whirlpool of humanity who are tired of subways or limousines, into cross-city hiking teams. These "health hikes" are to give the citizens the benefit of honest to goodness exercise and at the same time acquaint them with their New York in a way they may not have known before. They will be taught how to conserve their energy in going on a long hike, when to put their best foot forward and also how to avail themselves of the gentle art of conversation while gaining healthful exercise. The Commissioner plans to go on the first hike and to tell them whom else, so that the event offers great promise for those who would seek adventure within the limits of town.

BLUE GRASS FIRES THE OPENING GUN

Big Meeting At Lexington Starts The Campaign For The American Jewish Relief Committee

Delegates From Many Cities Gather To Form Organization For Raising Money For Stricken People Of Europe

One of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in the Blue Grass was called to order in the Lafayette Hotel in Lexington Sunday afternoon, March 5, by Gus L. Heyman, who introduced Col. Fred Levy, of Louisville, State Chairman of the drive in Kentucky to raise $100,000 for the relief of destitute Jewish people in Central and Eastern Europe.

Delegates were present from Lexington, Winchester, Paris, Carlisle, Cynthiana, Danville and other cities in the Blue Grass.

Col. Levy in his address told of the great needs of the starving and destitute children, of the men and women, in the war-torn sections of Central and Eastern Europe who, through no fault of their own, were compelled to undergo untold sufferings and whose only relief lies in the willingness of the people of the United States to help them.

Col. Levy referred to the great work of "Jimmie" Becker, son of a rich Chicago banker, who refused a life of ease and as a member of Herbert Hoover's relief forces abroad brought this to the country such a soul-stirring appeal that Julius Rosenwald, the well known financier, called a conference which started the great drive. David A. Brown, a successful business man of Detroit who attended the conference was so impressed that he turned back his tickets already purchased for a year's pleasure trip abroad and plunged into the task of raising $14,000,000 for relief work.

"We are going to give as we have never given before," said Col. Levy, "and until every orphan, every victim has been provided with food and clothing, homes, hospitals, schools and other work and support his family. These sufferers are not beggars; many among them were financially better off than you and I are before they were caught in the maelstrom of war. They are not asking for charity. They are asking for relief and we are going to see that they get it. We invite members of other faiths to join with us in this great work."

Other speakers were Rabbi Hatch of Louisville, Jonas Weil, of Lexington, Edward Sachs, of Louisville and many others. A mass meeting will be held in Lexington Sunday, March 19, when the campaign in the Blue Grass will be started.

PRESIDENT HARDING PRAISES THE WORK

Nation's Chief Executive Gives His Unqualified Approval To American Jewish Relief Committee

Calls Upon The People To Give Of Their Means For The Relief Of Starving People In Europe

Among the hundreds of letters of endorsement received by Mr. David A. Brown, Chairman of the National Appeal, American Jewish Relief Committee, New York, is a very characteristic one from President Warren G. Harding. The Committee is endeavoring to raise $14,000,000 for the relief of stricken Jewish people in Central and Eastern Europe. Of this amount $100,000 has been allotted to Kentucky, $50,000 from the state and $50,000 from Louisville. While the Jewish people of the state will be called upon directly to raise this amount, subscriptions from all will be very gratefully received.

The letter from President Harding follows: "My Dear Mr. Brown: "It is a pleasure to communicate to you and your associates the assurance of my unqualified approval of the great effort you are making in behalf of the suffering and unfortunate Jewish people of Europe. The presentations of their case which have come to my attention, have impressed me profoundly, and it is good to know that such an organization as your own is continuing the splendid work that in the past has been so very fruitful of humane and praiseworthy results. "I trust that the effort in which you are now engaged will have the fullest measure of success. "Very sincerely, "WARREN G. HARDING."

HALF OF HATCHING EGGS TURN OUT TO BE BLANKS

Nearly One-Half of All Chicks That Do Hatch Die In Infancy, Specialists Point Out and Tell Why.

Lexington, Ky. — Kentucky farmers annually lose more than 24 million eggs and 12 million chicks through their efforts to rear chickens and maintain the ten million hens on the farms of the state, according to poultrymen at the College of Agriculture. These figures mean that one-half of all the eggs incubated fail to hatch and nearly one-half of all the chicks hatched die before reaching market size or maturity, the specialists say.

The main causes which they outline for this loss during incubation and the first few weeks of brooding are due to the management of the poultry used as breeders, the care of eggs previous to and during incubation, and the operation of the incubator. The cost of Kentucky chicks could be reduced more than $500,000 each year by increasing the hatch from 50 to 75 chicks from each 100 eggs set, it is said.

"The first step toward more and better chicks is to produce good quality eggs," J. H. Martin, in charge of the college poultry work said. "Eggs suitable for producing healthy, vigorous chicks must be fertile, fresh in quality, normal in size, shape and shell texture and produced by healthy vigorous stock. They should be kept in a clean, well ventilated room having a temperature of about 60 degrees. Ten days is the longest period eggs should be held before being placed in machines and the shorter the time they are held the better will be the hatch."

"While the hen is a good incubator of eggs, she is being replaced rapidly by the hot air, hot water or electric machines, all of which give good results under proper management. The type of machine to buy is the one that is durable, built of good materials, well insulated from the outside temperature and easily cleaned. It also should have a heating device that is capable of supplying sufficient heat, and a heat control that is accurate. Ample provision for ventilating the egg chamber is important. Operation of the machine is best done according to the manufacturer's directions."

SEASONAL TIPS FOR GARDENERS.

Since the garden is expected to produce more food than any other piece of ground the same size on the farm it is essential that it be given the best possible care. Large quantities of well rotted manure worked into the soil before the crops are planted are big helps in making the garden a success.

Planning a companion system of cropping is a good way to overcome the disadvantage of the limited space usually provided to the garden. Lettuce, radishes, spinach, early beets or early turnips can be grown between the rows of cabbage, tomatoes or cucumbers.

Prevention has more value in the garden perhaps than anywhere else, especially when it is used to control insects, garden specialists at the College of Agriculture say. Some form of spray pump is almost an essential.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW.

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to Maysville Homes. Hard to do housework with an aching back. Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains often come from weak kidneys. "I would save much needless woe. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Read what a Maysville citizen says: Mrs. William Farley, 128 East Second street, says: "Not long ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a world of good. I am pleased to recommend them. My back hurt nearly all the time and I couldn't do my washing on account of the misery in my back. I couldn't sleep at night and mornings I could get up feeling all right. I would be dizzy and could see black specks before my eyes. My kidneys didn't act regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. My hands and arms would get numb and cold. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised so I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a box. I began using them and was soon rid of the trouble."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Farley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The latter part of March is a good time to put out early cabbage. Jersey Wakefield has proved to be one of the best varieties for Kentucky.

Records show that one year out of every ten the last killing frost in the spring occurs after May 1 in the vicinity of Ashland, after April 29 in the vicinity of Lexington, after April 21 in the vicinity of Louisville and after April 24 in the vicinity of Paducah. Gardeners can determine the best time to plant vegetables liable to be killed by frost by using this schedule of probable dates after which no more killing frosts will occur.

SUDAN GRASS GAINS FAVOR AS HAY AND PASTURE CROP.

Lexington, Ky. — Although only a small acreage of it was grown in the state last year, Sudan grass has demonstrated its usefulness to Kentucky farmers, both as a pasture and hay crop, and indications are that more farmers will try it during the coming year, according to crops specialists at the College of Agriculture. Not more than 200 acres were grown in 1921 but it is probable that this will be increased to about 2,000 acres this year.

The grass, which is a fine-stemmed sorghum, is possible more valuable in the state for pasture than it is for hay, this being especially true in the case of dairymen and farmers who are raising large numbers of hogs. From the time that it is a foot high, the grass will carry about 1,000 pounds of live weight of any class of stock an acre. On good land, the carrying capacity is even greater. The crop has further advantages in that the seed is cheap, ranging around four cents a pound, it is relished by all classes of stock and can be grown on any type of soil. The grass grows rapidly during July and August until killing frosts.

In Kentucky, it usually is seeded from May 1 until July and is cut for hay while the first heads appear. It is possible to get two crops of hay a season from it and some pasture in addition. From 10 to 20 pounds of seed is used an acre. This may be broadcasted and barrowed in or drilled with a wheat drill set at about two pikes of flax an acre, the latter method being preferable. The heavier rate of seeding is best both for hay and pasture purposes.

J. S. King, a dairyman at Somerset, is among the Kentucky farmers who have obtained good results with the crop. Mr. King grew 18 acres in 1921 and will sow an equal acreage this year. He cut one crop of hay and then grazed the grass for the remainder of the season. E. P. Maggard, Flemingsburg, estimated that he harvested seven tons of field-cured hay an acre from two crops in 1921.

The hat worn by women in 40,000 R. C. is stated to be very similar to models worn today.
